

A Private Residence

Harding, New Jersey

Our main objective for this project was to protect and enhance the natural features of the site and create an understated, elegant landscape which reflects the upscale yet rural character of the area. We created a pastoral entry drive which winds its way through stone gates, past sheep pastures defined by split rail fences and through large existing stands of spruce, pines, rhododendron, andromeda and ferns.

In the rear yard we designed a traditional rectangular pool with a quartzite patio. A brick wall with a custom designed wrought iron fence and garden gates encloses the pool area and is softened by perennial borders and privet hedges. The balance of the rear yard is an expansive combination of lawns, meadows and mature vegetation.
